1732 - At the Sydney Town Hall . . . resident musician Robert Ampt introduces us to the most famous historic organ in the southern hemisphere.

1733 - Toccata, Again! . . . whether fiery demonstrations of tactile agility or thoughtful meditations on cosmic principals, this genre provides a touchstone for the organist's art.

1734 - Summer Music . . . from around the world, marvelous melodies and evocations of this season of universal pleasure.

1735 - Concert Pieces . . . a special segment of the repertoire dedicated to the display of a performer's skill and an instrument's resources.

Pipedreams® is American Public Media's weekly program dedicated to the artistry of the pipe organ. Host Michael Barone's celebration of the king of instruments is heard on stations nationwide and worldwide via pipedreams.org. Go online to locate a broadcast station near you.
