1801 - A Belgian Bounty . . . assessing the historic instrumental resources of the Flemish and Walloon regions of Belgium.

1802 - Old Spanish Music in the New World . . . focusing on Robert Bates' new recording of Correa's Facultad Organica (1626).

1803 - Have You Not Heard? . . . with so many composers for the organ, inevitably a few rather interesting items get lost in the shuffle!

1804 - Pipedreams Live! at Rochester's Auditorium Theatre . . . featuring guest soloist Justin Lavlie and with Eastman faculty and students playing the Mighty Wurlitzer!

1805 - The Younger Generation . . . performers and composers 'of a certain age' show continued interest in the King of Instruments.

Pipedreams® is American Public Media's weekly program dedicated to the artistry of the pipe organ. Host Michael Barone's celebration of the king of instruments is heard on stations nationwide and worldwide via pipedreams.org. Go online to locate a broadcast station near you.
